According to official documents, in 2001 Showalter was found guilty of Child Molestation 3rd degree in Cowlitz County. At age 18, Showalter knowingly harbored a 12 year old female runaway and had sexual contact with her. He has violated a no contact order in which a 14 year old was the petitioner. In 2002 Showalter pled guilty to one count of Communicating with a Minor for Immoral Purposes. Showalter did not participate in Sex Offender Treatment during his incarceration due to time constraints regarding his sentence. He was ordered by the Court to obtain sex offender treatment however as of 1/9/04 it does not appear that he ever entered a community based sex offender treatment program. In September 2004 Showalter was returned to prison for a period of time for having contact with a juvenile female and being out of state, both violations of his probation.

The Cowlitz County Sheriff's Office is releasing this information pursuant to RCW 4.24.550 and the Washington State Supreme Court decision State v. Ward, which authorizes law enforcement agencies to inform the public of a sex offender release when, at the discretion of the Agency and the Risk Assessment Committee, the information will enhance public safety and protection. The sex offender listed has served the sentence imposed by the courts and has advised the Cowlitz County Sheriff's Office of their address. This Registered Offender is not wanted at this time. SOME SUGGESTIONS FOR SELF-PROTECTION:

1. You and your children should be continually aware of who is around you. If they are unfamiliar to you, don't put yourself in jeopardy.
2. Be aware of where your children are. Try to establish a time share child watching effort for children playing in the neighborhood.
3. Establish neighborhood safe havens for children as well as adults.
4. Urge your children to play in the area of other children, and caution them to not go anywhere with strangers.
5. Plan methods of escape, routes of escape and methods of self protection
